

JUSTICE, LESS CITATIONS, IN CASES

Advocated by President Wilson in Address of Welcome to American Bar Association—Removal of Delays and Litigation and Uniformity of Decisions Recommended by Former President Taft—Elihu Root Suggests Application of Common Sense in Rules of Evidence—Gov. Baldwin Addressed Comparative Law Bureau.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Improvements of the law from within to stem the tide of popular criticism prevalent in recent years was the keynote of the first day's session of the American Bar Association here. President Wilson in his address of welcome pleaded for the humanizing of the law by the incorporation of more justice into its cases and less citation. Former President Taft emphasized in an address to the judges of the country, gathered for the first time in the history of the country in formal meeting, the necessity for removing delays in litigation.

Associate Justice McReynolds of the supreme court at the same meeting urged the judges to give more attention to public opinion.

Arrival of Common Sense

At tonight's session of the bar association proper, Senator Elihu Root, in speaking of The Lawyer's Criticism of the Law, suggested that lawyers should apply the rules of evidence with more regard to common sense, and might well avail themselves of expert assistance.

The day's program was concluded tonight with a reception in the Pan-American building, at which the chief justice of the United States and the associate justices of the supreme court were the hosts. Reports of common sense and a pilgrimage to Mount Vernon will feature tomorrow's program.

Uniformity in Decisions

Before the judicial section, former President Taft, in his second speech of the day said he felt at home, although there had been an "intervention purgatory" since he himself was a judge. As he replied to President Wilson's suggestion for more justice in each case, Mr. Taft told the judges that uniformity in decisions was quite as important as individual justice. Turning to the improvement of the judiciary, Mr. Taft suggested that dependence on the stenographer in the present day had led to much delay in the disposition of cases. He urged that most cases in the trial courts should be disposed of at the end of arguments.

Justice McReynolds, in urging the judges to become greater affirmative forces in the enforcement of the law, said delays in courts frequently robbed cases of the fruits of the decision. As attorney general, the justice said, he started out with the idea that he would conduct the government's business as that of a private client. He soon found he was mistaken, he declared, and became convinced the thing to do was to give the public a fair idea of what he intended to do and a judicial notion of what success was being attained as he proceeded. In some way which he did not know how, he added, the judges must give to the people an idea of what they are seeking to accomplish and how they are succeeding.

To Turn Tide of Opposition

In some such way we may turn the tide of opposition to the judiciary of the last ten years, he concluded, and find ourselves once more entrenched in the confidence of the people.

The judicial section discussed the part judges might well take in reference to legislation affecting the courts. Chief Justice Winslow, of Wisconsin, and Chief Justice Fugate, of Massachusetts, leading in the discussion.

Governor Simeon E. Baldwin of Connecticut addressed the Comparative Law Bureau.

The United Workers campaign went on Tuesday with growing interest and greatly increased results. There was added to the list of solicitors the name of Mrs. Hume E. Flieger. Reports from nearly all the ladies who are devoting the week to raising funds for current expenses of the United Workers were made in the evening to Mrs. Frederic W. Cary, chairman of the special committee. The subscription for Tuesday added to Monday's contributions makes the total raised in two days of $1,320.35.

There remain four days in which to complete the canvass in the various districts of the town and as the campaign progresses it is expected that the returns will be still more encouraging and sufficient funds will be obtained to maintain all of the carities of the United Workers during the coming winter without curtailment or impairment of efficiency.

The names of contributors reported on Tuesday were as follows:

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat, which clogs kidneys, then back hurts and bladder bothers you.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.
